

5 SIMPLE REASONS TO USE EDOC'S DIGITAL LABOR LAW POSTERS

1

You have remote teams or workers

If you have remote teams, Edoc's digital labor law posters offers you a better way to keep all workers informed. You can post them on your website or intranet, or anywhere else you want to give employees access to.

After all, you wouldn't want your remote workers to have a bunch of posters throughout their home office, would you?

2

You're a modern company

1 in 2 companies allow for their workers to work from home. Knowing that you're a modern company also means you're more likely to want to take advantage of technology that makes life easier for your workers. Having digital labor law posters does just that: it makes it easy for employees to access—anytime, anywhere.

Allowing employees to always have access to your up-to-date, mandatory posters

3

You want to be sure your posters are up-to-date

Edoc's digital labor law posters are always up-to-date. Now you don't have to worry about constantly re-ordering new posters.

Save money AND save time

4

You want to make life simpler for your office workers

In many states, certain labor law posters require tedious fill-ins. With Edoc's Digital Labor Law posters, that process is completely digitized. That's right: all you have to do is type-in the custom information, and we generate the posters for you.

Not only all all your posters automatically updated, but any posters that require fill-in can be done online, too

5

You want everyone to be happy

Let's say that you still WANT the physical labor law posters in your home office or elsewhere. We want to make everyone happy, so we've designed our platform to give you the ability to print off every poster you want. Full compliance has never been so easy!
